

Name: _____ Date: _____ TOC#: _____

Section 1 Notes: What are Waves?

As you read, answer these questions. This is a modified type of Cornell Note Taking. Include the page number of where the material is found.

1. Are sound waves mechanical or electromagnetic? (Page _____)
2. What waves do not need a medium to travel through? (Page _____)
3. How does a mechanical waves move its medium? (Page _____)
4. Figure 1 (p. 7) if you add a sixth stage to the diagram which earlier stage should it most resemble?
5. What is a vibration? (Page _____)

Summary: Write in your own words three or more sentences that describe what you have learned about waves. Do this on the notebook paper.

Name: _____ Date: _____ TOC#: _____

Section 1 Notes: What are Waves?

As you read, answer these questions. This is a modified type of Cornell Note Taking. Include the page number of where the material is found.

1. Are sound waves mechanical or electromagnetic? (Page _____)
2. What waves do not need a medium to travel through? (Page _____)
4. How does a mechanical waves move its medium? (Page _____)
4. Figure 1 (p. 7) if you add a sixth stage to the diagram which earlier stage should it most resemble?
5. What is a vibration? (Page _____)

Summary: Write in your own words three or more sentences that describe what you have learned about waves. Do this on the notebook paper.