

Review Questions

1. What are the three main types of environmental issues?
2. Why is population growth an environmental issue?
3. How might a growing population affect the supply of trees, a renewable resource? Explain your answer.
4. Why are forests considered renewable resources?
5. How does the clear-cutting logging method differ from selective cutting?
6. You are walking in a clear-cut section of forest a few days after a heavy rainstorm. A nearby stream is very muddy and has many dead fish. What might have happened?
7. What are four ways fisheries can be managed for a sustainable yield?
8. What are two kinds of laws that regulate fishing? How can they help ensure the health of a fishery?
9. What might happen to a fish population over time if all the largest fish in the population were caught? Explain.